great wines from the world's greatest houses

maison sichel — france

Produced by the legendary Maison Sichel, Domaine de Cassagnau lies in the tiny village of Pauligne near Limoux, at the heart of “Cathar Country”. Cassagnau has been a family-owned affair since the 18th century and owes its longevity to its women. Owner/winemaker Jacques Abet’s grandmother managed the estate for six decades, taking it through two world wars and many viticultural crises. In time, he inherited the property from his mother. Today, it’s thanks to his wife that Jacques, who pursued a career in medicine, is able to satisfy his passion for winegrowing and the terroir in which he grew up. With passionate dedication, strict standards and an authentic approach, Jacques has been breathing new life into the estate.

domaine de cassagnau rouge pays d’oc 2016

From the low foothills of the Pyrenees, where the climates of the Mediterranean and Atlantic meet, this original blend—light and easy-drinking—makes Cassagnau a Languedoc wine with a unique terroir and southwest accent.

35% Syrah, 35% Grenache & 30% Merlot

A lighter, expressive red with a black-berried nose and hints of spice and Mediterranean herb that herald in a smooth, creamy palate with soft tannins and a fresh finish. Perfect with casual meals or slightly chilled, simply as an apéritif.
